

BREEDING BY CASTRATED CATS

Q: Is it possible for a male cat which has been castrated within the past 48 hours to copulate and cause conception?—A., Texas.

A: Due to the storing of the sperm in the seminal vesicles, it is possible for a castrate to produce conception. We have known of a case where this happened 5 days after the surgery on the male.—Robert L. Stansbury, DVM, Pasadena, California.
